TRANSACTIONS OF A PRODUCE DEALER. AN EX-PARTNER OF SHERIFF DAVIDSON WANTED-

SOME LOCAL FRAUDS FRUSTRATED.

AN EX-PARTNER OF SHERIFF DAVIDSON WANTED—SOME LOCAL FRAUDS FRUSTRATED.

A dispatch from Montreal yesterday stated that C. J. Dewey, an English produce merchant, had committed gigantic frauds on Molson's Bank, of Montreal, Kidder., Peabody & Co., the Mystic Bank of Boston, and Blongett & Co., of New-York. In quiry among the produce merchants disclosed the fact that C. J. Dewey was until a year ago of the firm of Davidson & Co., No. 3 Broadway, Sheriff Davidson being the head of the firm. It was learned also that Dewey had attempted to swindle well-known firms of large amounts on forged oills of lading, and worthless checks for purchases, and that he had been unsuccessful. It is averred that Mr. Davidson was ignorant of Dewey's character and of his travsactions until after the latter had fied to occape arrest, and that Mr. Davidson afterward made a full settlement with all of those who had been swinoled by his pattner.

J. W. Nigntingale, of No. 84 Broad-st., New-York, agont of H. H. & S. Budget & Co., of Bristol and London, England, said: "A man came into my office about a month ago and introduced himself to me as C. J. Dewey, representing a large English house. He said that he wanted to make himself to me as through me some day. I heard nothing more shout the tellow until last Wednesday, when I received notice from a bank in Montreal that they would draw upon me for $33,000 for 45,000 boxes of cheese stipped by S. J. Dewey by steamship from Boston to my principals in Bristol. The bills of lading were forged. I refused to honor the draft, and if went to protest. I learned that the banks have offered $10,000 for the arrest of Dewey, and detectives are looking for bim. I have no doubt that he has obtained large advances on these forged bills of lading, but I dou't think any New-York merchants have lost by him."

"If this is the same man who tried to swindle me, I know him," said S. Van Brant, lard brooker at No. 100 percent in the protest at No. 100 percent informed when having, but I dou't think any New-York merchants have lost by him."

"If this is the same man who tried to swindle me, I know him." said S. Van Brunt, lard broker at No. 59 Beaver-st. "I wish I had been informed when he was in Nightingale's a month ago. I don't think the detectives would have been looking for him now. He tried to swindle me out of about $30,000, upon a shipment of 1,000 tieces of lard on one of Wilson's line of steamers about a year ago. But I caught him just in time. After it was discovered that Dewey had fled, his partner, Mr. Davidson, evidently in ignorance of Dewey's ways, settled the matter in full with me trom his own pocket. The difference was about $30,000."

Was about $3,000."

A representative of J. W. Wilcox & Co., lard refiners. No. 41 Broad-st., said: "Yes, Dewey tried to swindle us, but we were not doing business in so carcless a way as he would have wished. We sold a consignment of lard to Davidson & Co., to be shipped to Antwerp. We, however, were not going to let our goods leave port until we received a certified check in exchange. Finally, when Dewey saw that he was getting into close quarters, he disappeared, and we turned the shipment over to another person on board of the steamer, at a loss of between $700 and $800, which Mr. Davidson promptly paid to us. So we lost nothing."

A representative of another large lard refining firm said: "We sold to Dewey, representing Davidson & Co., about a year ago, 250 tierces of lard to be shipped to Europe. Dewey gave us a check on the Bank of the Kepublic in payment, and when we sent to get it certified it was returned with the statement that there was no denosit there. Then I followed up Dewey and he gave me his bills of lading as security. These Davidson & Co., and I followed Dewey up to the bank to see that he deposited the money, and then presented the check and had it certified; hence we lost nothing. The next day I learned that Dewey had disarpeared, and that he had swindled some New-York merchants."

A circular to New-York bankers describes Dewey as a man of peculiar appearance, age thirty-three, about 5 feet 3 inches in height, weighing 120 pounds, and with dark hair and eyes.

A dispatch from Boston says that Dewey was represented in that city by reputable persons, who were unaware of his character. His transactions were with Kidder, Peabody & Co. and the Maverick Bank. The former house in Montreal to advance $30,000, which was done on the presentation of papers, which subsequently turned out to be forgeries. The Maverick Bank made advances on £000 bills of exchange, taking bills of lading as cellateral, which are good, although it is beheved the goods were overvalued.

THE BRIDGE CARS STOP AGAIN.

TROUBLE WITH THE AUTOMATIC SWITCH. ANOTHER BREAK-DOWN AFTER RUNNING AN HOUR AND A HALF.

Another chapter of accidents was added yesterday to the history of the Bridge railway. After the closing of traffic Fbursday noon jacks were used to get the car that had run off the rails on them again, and one of the causes of trouble was clearly shown. It app-ared that the car when loaded with a hundred people or so was pressed down by the weight so that the floor pressed the lever attachment of the brakes into the wood work of the trucks on which the car is placed. This prevented the break-shoe from being thrown off the wheel when the operator took the brake off, and accordingly when the grip was put on the brake was in reality still set, and the grip had to hull the car in this condition. The wooden frame of the truck retains the marks of the boits of the lever connections of the brakes. "Under the circumstances," said Superintendent Martin, who gave this information to a Tribular reporter, "it cannot be a subject of wonder that the wooden sheaves of the grips wore out with startling rapidity."

All the sources of trouble apparently were remedied, and Vice-President Kingsley gave the order that the running of cars should be resumed at 4 p. m. yesterday or a little later. The first car was started at 8 minutes of 5, and all went smoothly until 6:30, when the grip on a new car loaded with people on the New-York side refused to take hold of the cable. It was basked to the siding and would have been switched off, but just at that time the switching truck on the other track chose to display its antics. This truck is automatic and is run by an auxiliary cable which connects with the dram of the large cable. This small cable is attached to a peculiar grip, which bangs perpendicularly from the bottom of the truck and comes down pretty low. Something—the reporter was unable to learn exactly what—happened to the truck and twisted this grip entirely out of shape, dragging the small cable out of place and throwing the truck from the rails. Under these circumstances nothing could be done except to telephone for one of t

MORE THEFTS BY RIVER THIEVES. MORE THEFTS BY RIVER THIEVES.

River thieves are at work along the North River piers. On Thursday morning, the watchman at the pier foot of Christopher-st. discovered, on returning after a brief absence, that two cases of linen had been despoiled of their contents. The thieves had come and gone in a boat, and had escaped through one of the slides in the covered pier. The linen stolen amounted to forty-six pieces, containing 2,800 yards, and was valued at $1,000. It was consigned to Earl & Wilson, of Troy. The Citizen's 'sine Steamboat Company has offered a reward of $300.

of $300.

Policeman Sullivan, of the Steamboat Squad, yesterday afternoon noticed a man taking bags of cotton from a hiding place between the South Ferry pler and the pier adjoining and loading them on an express wagon. When the expressman was ready to start he was arrested. He said that he was Patrick Aliv, of No. 37 Washington-st., and a man who was a stranger to him had engaged him to take the cotton to No. 57 Washington-st. The police believed that the cotton had been stolen from a lighter by river thieves. It was stored at Police Headquarters last night and Alty was locked up on suspicion of being an accomplice of the robbers.

"Got in last night," said Denis to a TRIBUNE reporter. "Some people had an idea that I went back to San Francisco last July because I had been squelched by the Park Commissioners and bamboozled by a few so-called labor agitators; but I didn't. I went home because I was sick. I have come back to the work I intended to carry out, and my battle cry is: 'Big pay and short hours.' The laboring people are going to catch up that cry, and send it from one end of the country to the other."

AN ELOPEMENT FROM NEWARK.

AN ELOPEMENT FROM NEWARK.

Wilbur Garrabrant, age eighteen, and Miss Madge Ferguson, age twenty, both living in Newark, are said to have eloped on Tuesday. Garrabrant has been employed as a ticket agent of the Pennsy rapia Railroad at the Chestnut Street Station in Newark, and his parents live at No. 53 Tichenor-st. The young woman has boarded for some months at No. 74 South-st., and her family lives at Perth Amboy. The couple met for the first time about three weeks ago, and on Monday night they were married by the Rev. Mr. Dekins. They kept the marriage secret, and on Tuesday they left the city without saying anything to their friends or relatives. Garrabrant left a note informing his chief that he had gone. His accounts were found to be correct. Garrabrant had deposited some money with the Howard Savings Institution, and this he drew previous to leaving the city.

Dr. S. Van-der-Heyden committed suicide on September 15 by shooting himself through the heart at his hotel, in the village of Winfield, Newtown, L. I. His professional expectations were not realized, and, being without money and in ill health, he took his life. On the breaking out of the Tonquin war Dr. Van-der-Heyden tendered his services to the French Government. A few days ago a letter from Paris directed to the deceased man was received at the Wintield Post Office, and was opened by Coroner White. It proved to be from the French Minister of War, accepting Dr. Van-der-Heyden's services, and instructing him to report to the French Consul in this city, where he would receive one year's pay in advance and be furnished with transportation to the scene of hostilities.

FATALLY INJURED BY AN EXPRESS WAGON.

Michael O'Neill, age forty, of No. 36 sherifist, stepped off the rear platform of a Broadway street-car at Thirty-first-st, last night and was struck on the spine by the shaft of an express-wagon on the body of which was nainted F. E. McAlister.

O'Neill was injured internally and was sent to the New-York Hospital. It was said last night that his injuries would in all probability result in his death. The driver of the wagon escaped.

FOUND DEAD IN THE STREET.

While Policeman Lake, of the I weilth Precinct, was on his beat at One-hundred-and-twenty-seventh-st, and Second-ave., at 7 o'clock last night he saw the body of a man lying on the sidewalk. He stooped to raise him and found that he was dead. A slight cut over the left eye was the only mark found upon him, from which the blood had flowed. His age was about forty, he was five feet eight inches in height and wore dark clothing.

A Boy's PITIFUL STORY.

Frederick Wurst, age ten, who was found wandering in the streets on Thursday night, told a pitiful story at Police Headquarfers yesterday. He said his home formerly was at No. 42 Wallst., Newark. His mother died a year ago and his father died two weeks ago. Edward Exen, a shoemaker, gave him shelter for a week and turned him away. The boy then came to this city in search of work, but failed to find any.

A JUSTICE LONGS FOR THE WHIPPING-POST.
Francis Schmalz, an artist employed in co oring photographs for Mark Gambier, the photographer, before Justice Gardner in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday was ged with ill-treating his wife Catharine, a me woman, age twenty-nine. The story of mgs induced the Justice to say: "I wish there was a whipping-post attached to this Court, I she id apply for the honor of handling the whip. I would pay for the privilege of whipping such men as you are." Schmalz was then put under $1,000 bail to insure his wife immunity from him.

DENYING THAT A TELEGRAPH POLE WAS ROTTEN.
Superintendent Humstone, of the Western Union
Company, said yesterday that the telegraph pole, which fell across the Harlem River Railroad track near Mott Haven on Wednesday night, was not rotten. The pole stood on a curve in the telegraph lines, he said, and the wire guy which helped support it had been broken or been cut. The pole was unable to withstand the weight of the lines, and falling carried down a few poles on both sides of it. Mr. Humstone said that the published stafement that an inspection of the line had not been made for a year was mere nonsense.

The United States MUTUAL ACCIDENT ASSOCIATION

320 and 322 Broadway, New-York.

CHARLES B. PEET, (of Rogers, Peet & Co.), President. JAMES R. PITCHER, Secretary.

INCORPORATED 1877.

The original and the largest Mutual Accident Association in the world.

Effects a saving to the insured of more than one-half the usual cost of accident insurance, This Association has paid to the Beneticiary of each member who received fatal injuries, who held full policy, $5,000.

It has paid more than 2,000 claims for indemnity for disabling injuries,

It has in force over $70,000,000 accident insurance, with weekly indemnity amounting to

It saves to the membership in the cost of accident insurance furnished, as compared with that of any other reliable company, over $280,000 per annum.

It has no proven death or indemnity claims or indebtedness of any nature audited and unpaid. The malicious circulars issued by rival accident insurance (stock) companies, and distributed broadcast by their agents, and intended to prejudice the public against this Association, have signally failed, in their object, as the Association has increased its business since January 1.

The membership fee in this Association for $5,000 accident insurance, with $25 weekly indem-nicy, is $4, payable but once. Annual dues thereafter, $1. Assessments for $5,000 insurance have never exceeded the cost of $12 per annum, and may be paid at one time, in advance, if preferred, and the sending of assessment notices also omitted if desired. Assessments paid in advance are held in trust by the Ninth National Bank-special

$10,000 accident insurance, with $50 weekly indemnity, at proportionate rates. There is no reason why the number of assessments in this Association should increase with the advancing age of members, as a surance against accidents is not affected by age, as in the case

W. W. SHARPE & CO., NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

21 PARK ROW, NEW YORK. Advertisements written, appropriately displayed, and proofs furnished free of charge, with estimated cost of insertion in any number of papers, on application by mail or otherwise.

The leading Daily and Weekly Newspapers of the United States and Canada kept on file for the accommodation and inspection of Advertisers.

"THE ADVANTAGES OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING." The following testimonials are from some of our leading business houses who are large Advertisers: "We believe in Printer's Ink. Advertise in the best Newspapers largely and well, and returns are sure. The stronger the advertising, the larger the

"An experience of many years has demonstrated to us the great value and benefit derived from carefully prepared and properly displayed advertisements in well-established, influential Newspapers."

"According to the character and extent of your business, set aside a liberal percentage for Advertising, and do not hesitate to keep yourself unceasingly before the public. It matters not what business of utility you may be engaged in, for if intelligently and industriously pursued, a fortune will be the "If what you have to say be strictly true say it in a good newspaper. Its readers are intelligent, will appreciate a bargain, and of every such customer you make an advertiser. For forty-seven years nine-tenths of our advertising as been done on this plan, and of the whole expenditure, all that we regre is contained in the other tenth." "The policy of every man in business, and who must live by the public, should be to let the public hear of him. His best speaking-trumpet is the Newspaper advertisement. In a populous community and a rapid age like this, every trader must make himself heard and known, otherwise he will fall behind the progress of his neighbors."

"Publicity is money. This has come to be recognised as a principle in business. Competition is so keen, and we live in such busy times that a man's only chance of success lies in proclaiming the merits of his Wares far and wide, up and down the market. He must keep a trumpeter, the public attention must be arrested, and he who best succeeds in this has the best chance of making a fortune. In this conviction every one of spirit advertises. It is not sufficient to put a sign over the door, signs must be sent out far and wide, and people made to see and remember them in spite of themselves."
